THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Kidnapped Boy.

As was stated in the Gazette, Antonio Bozzuffi, the 14-year-old boy who was kidnapped in New York last Sunday and held for $20,000 ransom, returned alone to his home yesterday. He had escaped from his captors, he said, by stealing out of a room above a saloon in Fifty-ninth street yesterday while one of his captors, who had been left alone to guard him, turned his back for a moment. The boy says it took him but a second to spring beyond the man's reach and get down stairs to the street, where no attempt was made to pursue him.

He told how he was terrorized into writing a letter to his father, John Bozzuffi, an East Side banker, informing him that $20,000 must be paid, and that if the police were informed his life would be taken. He was induced to enter the saloon by two Italians, who told him they wished him to do some interpreting in English, which they did not speak. Taken to the upstairs room, he says he was at first bound and a handkerchief was forced into his mouth. Three men wearing black masks then entered the room. One of them, the boy said pressed a revolver against his head and commanded him to write a letter to his father. After this episode, according to the boy's story, he was treated kindly.

John Bozzuffi, the boy's father, said that the kidnapping was part of a plot to ruin him by causing a run on his bank. A run started on the day after the kidnapping, and up to 11 o'clock yesterday $7,000 had been drawn out of the bank.

Two Sicilians were arrested yesterday in connection with the kidnapping of Bozzuffi. Detectives found the suspects at Sixty-third street and First avenue and took them to police headquarters, where they named themselves as Joseppo Constanzo, 39 years old, of 330 east Sixty-third street, and Antonio Giamo, 38 years old, of 407 east Antonio street. Samuel Hickman, the landlord of the house where Antonio was held captive, indentified Giamo as the man who accompanied the Italian when he went to rent the rooms where Antonio was afterwards confined. Constanzo was arrested simply because he was in Giamo's company.

The kidnapped boy could not be sure of the identity of each of them, but is in almost too nervous a condition to be certain of anything. He said, however, that they might be two of the men who captured him, but it was hard for him to tell, as his captors had worn masks almost constantly while they had him in their charge.

After the two suspects had been examined down stairs in police headquarters they were taken up stairs to be photograph. When it came Giamo's turn to take his place in the photographer's chair, he acted like a madman. Above his chair, which is screwed to the floor, is a great electric arc light by which the photograph is taken. When they put Giamo in the chair and turned on the electricity he evidently thought that he was to be put to death or tortured, for he jumped up from the chair and fell writhing to the floor, crying, "Don't kill me! Save me save me!" It was sometime before the detectives could quiet him to lead him away. The men were afterwards arraigned in court and held in $1,000 bail for examination on Friday.

Stocking Social.

The truly pious young women of the Second Methodist Church of Pittsburg, Pa., will hold a "stocking social" tonight. As a success, it is expected to bulge at the calf. The church owes $800, and the "social" will be given to pay off the debt.

"Drop $5 in my stocking," is to be the keynote, the motif, of the entertainment.

This is how the entertainment was arranged. Ways and means of liquidating the church debt were being discussed, when a shapely miss suggested the "stocking social." It was necessary for her to explain. The old ladies and the thin ones were horrified, but the young girls had their way, and are now soliciting their men friends for contributions.

It goes without saying that when they began their collections the stockings were limp, empty—the young women carry them, they do not wear them—there will be nothing in them but money when the "social" ends.

Never were more attractive, inviting collection bags.

At the—at the—top, so to speak—at the opening—so to say—where the money goes—do you understand?—there is not the usual, accustomed—ah—girdle—ceinture—retaining strap. Instead, as each earnest church-worker holds out the stocking in her hand, she extends the draws ring of pretty baby-blue ribbon that binds the—receptacle—or whatever you please to call it.

Next Thursday evening the stockings will be opened and the contents placed on the collection plate.

The best safeguard against headaches, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They don't gripe. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Train Struck Powder Wagon.

A Lehigh Valley express train between New York and Buffalo struck a wagon of the Dupont Company loaded with powder at Warrior Run near Wilkesbarre, Pa., yesterday afternoon, and by a most fortunate circumstance the powder burned instead of exploding, and the accident had no more serious result than the burning of Engineer H. W Seals and Fireman Harry Reichard, of Easton, the charring of the engine and express car, and the destruction of the wagon. Had the powder exploded the train would have been blown to pieces. The wagon stuck in the mud with the rear wheels on the track. Knowing the train was due, the driver unhitched his horses and sped up the track to flag it. He was not in time, but Engineer Seals, seeing the wagon, stuck to his post and managed to slow the train down to about twelve miles an hour as it collided. He expected to be blown sky-high, but instead of exploding the powder, the collision hurled the tin cans containing it in wild confusion, bursting several, so that the engine was enveloped in a powder cloud, which the fire under the boiler ignited. There was a big flash, a gust of black smoke, and the danger was over. The engineer and fireman were burned about the hands and face, but insisted upon running the train into Wilkesbarre. The engine and the express car were charred, but the passengers, aside from a slight shaking up by the application of the air brakes, were uninjured.

"Sleeping Sickness."

Prof. Robert Koch, of Berlin, lectured yesterday on the "sleeping sickness" which he investigated for several months in equatorial Africa during the year 1905. Emperor William and a distinguished company were present.

The malady, said the professor, had been known on the west coast of Africa since the beginning of the last century, and it had spread to the north shore of the Victoria Nyanza and threatened German Africa. Probably 200,000 persons had died from the disease. He had found whole villages on the shores of Victoria Nyanza to be empty, and the population of some groups of islands had died to the last soul.

The infection was carried from human to human by the sting of a fly, the glossina palpalis, somewhat larger than an ordinary fly. The person affected suffered ill health for several days, and then was attacked with fever, became incoherent, the glands were swollen, the patient became enfeebled, and eventually was seized with the sleep mania. Prof. Koch knew of no remedy for this disease, but hoped the infection might be ended by the extermination of the insect, which propagated slowly, by burning the undergrowth at its favorite home.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth, 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggests.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 8, 1906.

THE examination in the Police Court of the two men suspected of complicity in the murder of George R. Curtin resulted this afternoon in the discharge of the prisoners and the sending to the grand jury of a man who had not heretofore been arrested as a party to the crime. This makes the seventh man taken in custody in connection with the murder. The affair seems to be as far from solution as ever. The man who was put under arrest failed to give a satisfactory account of his movements after 12 o'clock Saturday night, December 23, 1905, the night Curtain disappeared, and his arrest was based upon that fact. Heretofore bricks seem to have been thrown in the dark. It remains to be seen whether or not the last suspect was a party to the early morning crime. The community is disappointed at the result, as there was reason to believe that the Commonwealth had obtained some definite information which would bring to light the perpetrators of one of the most horrible murders that has ever occurred in any community.

FROM the evidence before the legislative committee which investigated the Corporation Commission affair the findings of the majority of that committee, suggesting the resignation of Judge Crump, seem rather severe. That Judge Crump acted with indiscretion in buying a share of the Virginia Corporation Company no one will deny, but that he had any wrong or illegal motive in doing so but few reasonable men will believe. The majority report exonerates Judge Crump from corrupt motives, but finds that he was indiscreet and weak. It says:

We therefore conclude that Judge Crump, by his own conduct, but without any corrupt intention, has shown such a lack of judgment and moral courage as to seriously impair his usefulness as a member of the State Corporation Commission, where not only legal acumen, but moral courage, firmness, good judgment and sense of justice, which is inflexible, are essential. The same considerations which controlled the commission in dismissing Lanier should now suggest to Judge Crump that he resign.

The whole affair was unfortunate, but lack of judgment seems to have been the gravest offense committed. This is a human frailty to which all men are subject at times.

AGAIN "the last of the ladrone bandits" in the neighborhood of Manila has been killed, according to advices received by the insular bureau from the Philippines. The "outlaw" was Cornelius Felizardo and he came to his end in a fight with two natives of the constabulary. A four days inquest by a committee, it is reported, pretty well proved that Felizardo was dead, the corpse being identified by some thirty-two witnesses who had known the bandit in better days. Felizardo was one of the noted ladrone leaders of the islands and figured prominently in the disorders of last year in the Cavite district. A reward of 2,500 pesos had been offered for his capture. Such a reward makes all dead ladrones look alike and it may turn out that Felizardo still lives.

THE members of the British Parliament serve without pay, but yesterday a motion to pay members $1,500 a year was carried in the House of Commons. In the course of the debate Premier Campbell-Bannerman spoke in favor of the principle of the payment of members, but said the government at present had neither the time nor the money to carry it into effect. What would a United States congressman think of a fifteen hundred dollar salary?

FIRST England, as a result of observations of the Russo-Japanese war, began building an 18,000-ton battleship. Next Japan laid the keels of two such vessels. Then France decided that she would have three of them. Now it is stated that Germany will increase to that size two which she is about to build. The era of big battleships does not seem yet to be past.

ADVICES from St. Petersburg say that Premier Witte has decided not to resign his post, and that no more concessions are likely to be granted to the radical parties in Russia.

THE Governor will, in all probability, be given an opportunity to veto the legislature salary grab bill. It is hoped that he may exercise that power to its fullest extent.

Board of Education.

The Senate in executive session yesterday afternoon elected two new members to the State Board of Education. Dr. Charles W. Kent, of the University of Virginia, was re-elected for another term. The other two men elected were J. L. Harman, principal of the State Female Normal School, at Farmville, and N. B. Tucker, of the Virginia Military Institute. All of these men favor the single book list. There was a sharp fight over the re-election of Dr. Kent.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 8.

Encouraged by the poll which they have made of the Senate, showing that they have votes enough to adopt the Foraker amendment to the statehood bill, the opponents of the plan to unite the territories of New Mexico and Arizona as one State have decided to go further. They will tomorrow offer an amendment which will provide for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one State and of New Mexico and Arizona as two separate States. They claim that their poll shows that this amendment will be carried. The voting on the statehood bill will begin at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The State Department has received a further donation of $10,000 for the relief of Japanese famine sufferers from Editor Klopsch of the Christian Herald. This makes the Christian Herald's collections to date for this cause over $35,000, and the total sum transmitted to the U. S. Embassy at Tokio to be turned over to Japanese government about $40,000. Mr. Klopsch in his letter to the department states that he hopes to be able to send about $10,000 weekly for the famine fund.

The House committee on merchant marine and fisheries today decided to take up the ship subsidy bill, as it passed the Senate, for consideration on March 22, and will decide then whether or not there shall be any more hearings on the subject. The friends of the measure will use every endeavor to get it before the House, but their path is not a smooth one, as Speaker Cannon remains firm in opposition, and Chairman Tawney of the appropriations committee is bitterly opposed to the bill.

Major Conrad will conclude his argument today in the Greene case on trial in the Criminal Court and Judge Gould will then deliver his charge to the jury.

Among many members of the House the President's lecture to Congress, calling attention to the fact that the Tillman-Gillespie resolution, for an investigation of railroad monopolies in coal and oil was passed in imperfect form, has aroused approval rather than resentment. Speaker Cannon and other leaders say that he is right but point to the fact that the resolution as passed the House was much more satisfactory measure than when it came from the Senate. Representative Townsend, will take the steps necessary to correct the legislation in question. He will introduce a resolution tomorrow, if it meets with the attorney General's approval, appropiating $50,000, for the purpose of the investigation, also giving the Commission the power to summon witnesses.

An echo of the investigation now being conducted by a committee of the State Senate was heard in the House committee on banking and currency today, when Representative Pearre, of Maryland, made an argument in support of his bill to prevent national banks from contributing to campaign funds or from aiding in the election of officials who would deposit funds in the banks bringing about their election. The speaker referred particularly to the conditions in Cincinnati and pointed out that frequently machines are organized to bring about the election of county funds. Col. Pearre's argument made a deep impression and a favorable report of his bill is expected from the committee.

It is understood here that though the investigation by the civil service commission showed that the affairs of the office of collector of the port at Newport News were not in as good shape as they might have been, yet Mr. J. E. B. Stuart, who was some time ago appointed to that office, will be confirmed by the Senate.

The House committee on merchant marine and fisheries today authorized a favorable report on an omnibus bill, carrying an appropriation of $600,000 for the erection of 22 fish batcheries and two biological stations in as many States and territories.

Fifty-ninthCongress.

Washington, March 8.

SENATE.

Much to the amusement of the well filled galleries, Chaplain Hale narrowly escaped having to pray to empty benches in the Senate this morning. Only two Senators were in the Chamber when the gavel fell at 11 o'clock. The assistant sergeants-at-arms had been sent out on a search for at least one Senator when Mr. McCumber, of North Dakota, and Mr. Gearin, of Oregon, suddenly appeared. The slim attendence was due to the Senate having fixed the time of meeting one hour earlier than usual in order to permit Senators Beveridge, Patterson and McCumber to speak fully upon the joint statehood bill before the closing of the general debate on the subject.

Mr. McCumber opened the fight that will wage with increasing earnestness until the time of voting Friday afternoon, by advocating separate statehood for the four territories. His plea was for equality.

He warned the east that in less than a quarter of a centnry it would be glad to have western votes in the Senate to save it from itself, with its influx of strongly socialistic foreign immigration.

HOUSE.

The House adopted a resolution requesting the Secretary of State to send to the House the report of the investigation by former Assistant Secretary of State Peirce of American consulates and especially data referring to the consulate at Shanghai, and other Chinese cities. In committee of the whole, the Indian appropriation bill was read for amendment.

French Cabinet Resigns.

The French ministry suffered an unexpected defeat in the chamber of deputies yesterday on a motion resulting from the debate on the church disorders.

The government received 284 votes and the opposition 267.

The members of the cabinet then decided to offer their resignations in a body and their resignations were accepted.

The debate in the chamber was upon the bloody riot Tuesday during the taking of an inventory of a church in the village of Boeschepe, resulting in the death of a manifestant. Various orators severely criticised the government's course, asserting that it threatened to precipitate a religious warfare. The cabinet crisis comes at a most dramatic moment, when the Franco-German contest has reached a decisive stage, and may exert an important adverse influence on the Algeciras conference and on European affairs.

Desperate because she refused to live with him longer Henry Horisette, of Minneapolis, Minn., shot his wife and then killed himself today. The tragedy came at the end of nine years of unhappy married life.

Wholesale indictments for violations of the local option laws were brought in by the Warren county grand jury at Front Royal Tuesday.

Mr Chas. H. Balthis, of Strasburg, aged 73 years, died yesterday. He was a well-known musician and taught many bands of music through the valley.

Andrew Cromwell, one of the best-known residents of the eastern part of Frederick county, died Tuesday, aged 72. He was a Confederate soldier.

Governor Swanson yesterday nominated H. R. Scott, of Henrico county, to be a member of the State board of agriculture to succeed Julian M. Ruffin, resigned.

The Governor yesterday signed the bill extending to other cities in the State the same law separating the races on street cars as that in use in Richmond.

Edward M. Locke, a farmer of Clarke county, and Miss Martha E. Morgan, of Frederick county, were married at the bride's home yesterday evening. The bride is the daughter of Thomas R. Morgan.

Mrs. Adelaide Barnes Otis, widow of Rev. James L. Otis, died yesterday morning at the residence of Mrs. Mary A. Stockbridge, in Baltimore. Mrs. Otis was 84 years old. She at one time resided at Clifton, Fairfax county.

The engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Adams, of Middleburg, and Dr. J. A. English Eyster, of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, has been announced, the wedding to take place late in the summer.

The body of Mr. Daniel W. Davis, of Conemaugh, Pa., who had been staying with Mr. David Ramer at Crows' Nest, in Stafford county, near Fredericksburg, was found near the sawmill on the farm Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Davis having died suddenly from heart disease.

Mrs. Mary Augustus Allen, formerly Miss Ironmonger, of Portsmouth, has filed a suit asking for a divorce from her husband, Dr. M. R. Allen, a homeopathic physician. Mrs. Allen applies for a limited divorce, alleging cruelty, failure to provide and many other things. She demands alimony, her attorney's fees and $3,000 in money loaned before and since the marriage. The marriage occurred in Brooklyn, N. Y., May 12, 1904. There are no children.

Messrs. Davis & Davis, Washington patent attorneys, report the grant, this week, to citizens of this State, of the following patents: Charles C Keyser, of Newport News, clutch. And also the following trade-marks: Joseph G. Dill, Inc., of Richmond, plug, cut-plug and smoking tobacco; Lynchburg Shoe Company, of Lynchburg, leather boots and shoes; J. & E. Mahoney, of Portsmouth, whisky; W. M. Putnam & Co., of Staunton, organs; Standard Paper Manufacturing Co., of Manchester, blotting-paper.

The Corporation Commission.

Richard R Byrd, chairman of the special legislative committee appointed to investigate the circumstances surrounding the dismissal from the service of the State Corporation Commission of Major A. S. Lanier, yesterday presented in the House the majority and minority reports of the committee.

The following is a portion of the report of the committee:

"1. That as the result of the investigation of the charges against A. S. Lanier, A. M. Tyler and J. W. Newby they were dismissed from the service of the commission.

"2 That Lanier was guilty of reprehensible conduct in becoming a stockholder of the Virginia Corporation Company (incorporated) and in taking an active part in the affairs of that company. In a lesser degree, A. M. Tyler and J. W. Newby were also guilty.

"3. While we do not believe that the intentions of any of these men were corrupt, their relations with the said company were in a high degree contrary to public policy.

"4. That Judge Crump, without corrupt motives, but overlooking the fundamental objection to his share bolding in said company, by such shareholding and sanction given to the shareholding in and employment by said company of others became morally responsible for what followed.

"We therefore conclude that Judge Crump by his own conduct, but without any corrupt intention, has shown such a lack of judgment and moral courage as to seriously impair his usefulness as a member of the State Corporation Commission, where not only legal acumen, but moral courage, firmness, good judgment and a sense of justice which is inflexible are essential.

"The same considerations which controlled the commission in dismissing Lanier, Tyler and Newby should now suggest to Judge Crump that he resign."

The minority report was signed by Senator J. Boyd Sears and was milder in its conclusions and recommendations. It makes no reference to Judge Crump's resignation, but designates his connection with the Corporation Commission a grave error and act of indiscretion.

Judge Crump, chairman of the Corporation Commission, when asked yesterday afternoon for a statement relative to the report of the investigation committee replied:

"I have nothing whatever to say."

When asked if he would speak of his intentions for the future his reply was:

"Most assuredly not."

It is understood that Judge Crump has declared to his friends that he is conscious of having acted without dishonesty and would consider it an injustice to himself to resign under the circumstances.

The bar association of the city held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which resolutions were adopted indorsing and sustaining Judge Crump and requesting that he do not resign as the head of the Corporation Commission, in spite of the suggestion in the report of the legislative investigating committee that he should resign.

Clerk Upshur is not mentioned in the majority report. Senator Sears stands out alone in the minority report.

Delegate Puller moved that the reports and the evidence be laid on the table temporarily, in order that the legislators might be afforded an opportunitp to study both with care and deliberation. He explained that the matter was one of great importance, both to the State and the gentlemen concerned. The House refused to adopt the motion. The House received the report and ordered it to be printed and the action on it will come later. The report is regarded by many of the members as a harsh one.

It is probable that the case will not be finally disposed of without some animated speeches.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate yesterday passed by a good majority passed the Churchman rate bill limiting the amount railroads may charge for mileage books to 2 cents a mile for 500 miles or over. The bill came up on a special and continuing order brought over from Tuesday. The arguments of the opponents of the measure took the form generally of denying the constitutionality of the measure.

The doom of the amendments to the general liquor law, proposed and persistently urged by its patron, Judge Mann, was sealed in the Senate, yesterday, when that body refused to take up the bill and consider it out of its regular order. There is now little probability that the bill will be reached on the calendar in time to take action at this session. There is strong opposition in the Senate to many provisions of the bill.

A resolution was presented in the Senate by Judge Phlegar thanking President Roosevelt for his instrumentality in the passage of the Foraker bill providing that the graves of Confederate soldiers and sailors who were buried in northern cemetaries be marked and cared for as the national dead, and suggesting Gen. James McGill as a commissioner to execute the provisions of the bill. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The immigration bill got through the Senate with a bare twenty-one votes, and very narrowly escaped defeat. There was much objection to the new immigration plan.

Bills were passed:

To amend an act to incorporate the town of Manassas.

To provide for the appointment of a police justice in counties having a population of 50,000.

To prevent the shooting of pigeons, fowls or other birds for amusement.

HOUSE.

Mr. Caton put forth a vigorus effort to have the House take up out of its regular order on the calendar his much-discussed rolling-stock bill, which was "passed by" Tuesday night. Mr. Caton in explaining his request, stated that he had been made the victim of sharp parliamentary tactics in connection with the matter. He begged that the House would be equitable and fair, but the House did not see things that way. It refused to take up the bill out of its order, which means that it now stands a poor show of passing at this session. The Alexandria member, however, will make still another fight to win recognition for his measure.

A joint resolution requesting the Corporation Commission to put into operation a flat passenger rate of two cents for all railroad tickets, where the distance traveled is as much as five miles, was adopted almost unanimously.

The House finance committee favorably reported the bill increasing the pay of members to $8 a day.

The $5,000 appropriation for a silver service for the battleship Virginia was also favorably reported.

Mr. Gaines got through a resolution calling for a joint committee to inquire into the advisability of erecting and operating a State printing plant.

A resolution was adopted amending the constitution, making commissioners of the revenue eligible to succeed themselves, whether elected or appointed.

The Powell bill to relieve physicians of license taxes was defeated—ayes 44, noes 18 The passage of the bill requires 51 affirmative votes.

The bill to remove the limit of $10,000 liability for death or injury incurred at the hands of corporations was defeated.

The bill to prevent employes of certain corporations from being members of city councils was passed.

The following bills have been introduced:

To establish Old Home Week in the State of Virginia, to authorize its observance by cities and towns and counties and empower the cities and towns to appropriate money for the observance of the same.

To amend an act to require the State Corporation Commission to recall assessments made and not to further assess building and loan associations or companies, with State franchise tax for the year 1904.

To amend an act to prevent selling or furnishing cigarettes or tobacco in any form, or pistols, dirks or bowie-knives to minors under the age of sixteen years.

Requiring certain officers whenever they have reason to believe that perjury has been committed in matters pending or oaths taken before them to give information of the same to the attorney for the commonwealth.

To require railroad companies under certain conditions, to maintain telephones in their public offices.

To impose a license tax upon corporations, companies and other like incorporated companies transacting business in the State as representatives, attorneys or agents of other corporations, whether such corporations, companies or other like incorporated companies act in their own corporate name or capacity, or by or through their officers, directors, attorneys, agents, servants or employes.

Both Houses adopted the second conference report on the general appropriation bill in which the Senate made several concessions, the chief being the reduction of the increase in the salaries of the Supreme Court judges from $1,000 to $500, making the salaries $4,500 instead of $4,000.

During the evening the conference committee on the supplemental appropriation bill reached an agreement, the Senate again making important concessions. This report will be acted upon today and will be adopted. With the adoption of the report on the general bill practically vanished the prospect for an extra session.

INVESTIGATING THE MURDER.

Patterson and Davis Dismissed and John Ryan Sent to the Grand Jury.

Hattie Green was on the stand when the Gazette's report of the Curtin murder investigation closed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Carlin asked her how she knew the whistle was blown from the "little frames." She said she got out of bed and looked out of the window. She heard Lena Blum talking and was sure that she had properly located the sound of the whistle.

Eva Baker was the next witness. She said George Curtin came to her house Christmas Eve morning about 1:30 with Harry Meeks and another man. She would not let them in at that time, but later they came back and she admitted then, but they stayed only a few minutes. She said the man with Meeks and Curtin wore a light overcoat, but she could give no further description of him. She recollected the row that took place, but didn't see any of the people. When questioned by Mr. Brent Eva Baker said that she had no recollection of Pattarson having told her that he and Davis had changed overcoats at one time. She said he was in her house Newyear's Eve and not Christmas Eve, as Mr. Brent intimated.

Mr. Carlin asked the woman if Curtin had left her house long enough to be in the row and she said yes.

Fannie Kimball recollected the night of December 23 and could not remember seeing Curtin, Meeks or the man with the light overcoat. She said Joe Mills was in her house that night and that Jack Ryan and Hylus Osborne were in her house Friday night and Curtin was with them. She protested that she did not see Curtin Saturday night and that she went to bed shortly after 1 o'clock. She said if Curtin sat on her steps on Saturday night she didn't know it. She couldn't tell when Joe Mills left, but he was gone when she got up in the morning and he must have gone out by the back way.

Sallie Sykes, who lived at Fannie Kimball's on December 23, said that Joe Mills was on a couch sleeping, and Curtin, Ryan and Osborne were in the house at the time. Osborne, she said, had on a light overcoat and a black hat.

Joe Mills repeated his testimony given before the Police Court in the trial of Meeks and Foster. He was positive that he was in Fanny Kimball's on the night of December 23 and that Curtin, Ryan and Osborne were in the house that night. He was positive of the date because he was working on a dredging machine on Friday. He had heard Curtin offer to buy Ada Smith clothing and to carry her to Richmond on Sunday and bring her back on Monday.

Hylus Osborne claimed that he was in Alexandria on Friday night and Saturday morning, but was not here Sunday morning. He said he he was with Ryan while in Alexandria, but could prove by people in Washington that he was at his home on Saturday night.

Hylus Osborne was on the stand sometime and was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by Mr. Carlin and State's Attorney Brent. Osborne persistently denied that he was in Alexandria Christmas eve morning, but admitted that he was here the previous morning in company with Jack Ryan. He claimed that he wore a black overcoat.

Gordon Boothe was called by Mr. Carlin to face Osborne. He was almost positive that Osborne was the man he saw in a north Lee street house Sunday morning. When Osborne left the stand he was detained at police headquarters by direction of Mr. Brent.

John Hepburn, who is employed at the electric light plant, testified that Fegan was at the plant Saturday, but neither Ryan nor Osborne was with him.

E. C. Reeves, who works at the gas house, said Ryan was there on Saturday morning and Monday morning, but was not there Sunday.

George Johnson, a youth, said he was in the "little brick" the night of December 23, but was asleep and did not hear a disturbance or a police whistle.

The court then adjourned until this morning.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

The first witness this morning was Thomas Sillix, who testified that on the morning of December 24 he was eating breakfast in Mrs. Fanny Cook's eating house about 7 o'clock. Ryan and another man were in the place and were whispering in a mysterious manner. Mr. Sillix said he could pick Ryan's companion out of a crowd of fifty. Osborne was brought in and Mr. Sillix said that he was not the man.

William Tatsspaugh stated that he saw some blood on the sidewalk in front of the Tontine about Christmas time, but that it was not enough to amount to anything.

Alpheus Robey testified that he was at the Tontine until 1:30 p. m. Sunday and nothing unusual occurred and that he did not know Curtin.

LeRoy Beach told of his movements Saturday evening, December 23, until he arrived at the house of May Belmont, which he left when a police whistle blew. He said he thought Meeks was about to hit Kingston Ratcliffe and he interfered.

Jack Ryan said he was drinking all day Saturday, Dec. 23, and the last thing he remembered was going to the gashouse, where he spent the night. He said he had no recollection of eating breakfast in Mrs. Cook's place. When pressed to tell who was with him Sunday morning he said it must have been a man known as "Mitch." Ryan insisted that he was not in Fanny Kimball's house Saturday night but was there Friday night.

Mr. Carlin asked Ryan if he did not have a light overcoat and he said "no." Ryan's memory then got bad and he proved a very difficult witness. Mr. Carlin told Ryan that four or five witnesses had seen him with Curtin after 2 o'clock Sunday morning and it was up to him to explain. He asked Ryan when he had last seen "Mitch" and he said not since he had eaten breakfast with him in Mrs. Cook's, but that it was not Christmas Eve. Mr. Carlin subjected Ryan to a severe cross examination, the replies frequently creating merriment. Ryan said the last time he saw Curtin was Saturday morning in Fanny Kimball's house. Robert Hicks a gashouse employe, was brought in. Ryan looked at him but was unable to identify him as the man who was on duty when he spent the night there, though he had claimed that Hicks was present. In reply to repeated questions Ryan said he was at the gashouse "to the best of his knowledge" and if he didn't sleep there he couldn't tell where he slept. When questioned about "Mitch" Ryan said he didn't know where he was or when he was last in Alexandria.

Robert Hicks testified that Ryan was not at the gashouse when he claimed to have been there.

Ryan was recalled and asked by Mr. Carlin if he had been on Beach's ark since the Curtin murder and he said he had not. Mr. Carlin asked Ryan if he had not told a man to say "I don't remember" in testifying at the last trial. Ryan replied "I don't remember." He was informed by Mr. Carlin that there was a strong suspicion that he knew something about Curtin's murder. He positively denied any knowledge of it and was excused.

Howard Hardy did not hear an argument between Fegan and Curtin, but testified that a row took place on the street and a police whistle was blown from the little brick.

Chief Webster was then sworn. He described an examination of the Tontine Hotel by himself, the mayor, Mr. Brent and Officer Roberts. He said they found hand prints, apparently of blood, in a hallway and blood stains in the stable. Mr. Carlin asked Chief Webster as to the size of the spots. He said the largest one was about the size of a teacup. The Chief said he couldn't say that the stains are human blood but he thought so. He said he had never seen the trousers found in the ashbarrel and attached no importance to them. He said he knew nothing about Jack Vedder.

AFTERNOON SESSION

When the court convened at 2 o'clock the room was crowded and intense interest was manifested on all sides, as it was fully expected that the prosecution would spring a sensation of some sort.

Samuel J. Reynolds was out on the stand by the prosecution. He was asked if he knew Jack Ryan and replied in the negative. He said he recollected the time Ryan was shot, but had never seen him, so far he knew. He said he knew Curtin, but could throw no light on the mystery.

Arthur J. Downey said he saw Jack Ryan at Nowland's place about midnight Saturday, December 23. Ryan was very drunk and he put him out.

Mr. Brent rested his case and Mr. Carlin moved that the prisoners be discharged. He said not a scintilla of evidence that would connect either Patterson or Davis with the crime had been brought out and, further, that he did not consider it necessary to argue the case.

Mr. Brent also moved to discharge the prisoners and asked that Jack Ryan be held for the action of the grand jury, which the court directed. Patterson and Davis were at once surrounded by their friends and heartily congratulated. There was no demonstration over the verdict.

The action of the Police Court in sending Ryan on to the grand jury was based upon his own testimony.

The New York Life Insurance Company will sue Judge "Andy" Hamilton for restitution of funds paid him out of the insurance company's treasury. It is stated that Hamilton was induced to come back by Mr. Jerome, who promised him immunity if he would reveal the "yellow dog" fund secrets. Consternation is alleged to prevail among the higher insurance officials, who fear disclosures.

Associate Justice Henry Billings Brown, of the United States Supreme Court, intends to retire from the bench, and has so notified President Roosevelt. The President offered to appoint Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, to the vacancy, but the latter declined. Justice Brown was seventy years old on March 2. Two other members of the Supreme Court are eligible for retirement, all being more than seventy, and having served more than ten years. They are Chief Justice Fuller, who is seventy-three, and Justice Harlan, who is seventy-two. Justice Brewer will be seventy in June 1907.

Dear Sir: What's the penalty for selling adulterated paint in your State?

Is clay paint? Is chalk paint? Is barytes paint? Is lime paint? Is benzine? Is water? Is soap? Is mud?

We know what is; what is not is the question. Apparently nothing is not; but we're only a paint-manufacturer, not a lawyer.

Devoe is paint, all paint; and full measure; no whitewash; no nothing. We know what is; what is not is the question. Yours truly

Conference Reaches Agreement.

London, March 8.—A dispatch to the Central News from Algeciras, Spain, says that the international conference on Moroccan affairs, now in session there, has reached an agreement on the question of the Moroccan state bank, which has been one of the stumbling blocks in the way of reaching a complete agreement.

Algeciras, Spain, March 8.—At today's session of the Moroccan conference the Austrian representatives advanced a scheme for police supervision in Morocco, which it is hoped may lead to the settlement of the long pending disagreement on this important subject. The Austrians urged that the policing of the country be left to the control of France and Spain under the direction of an officer, to be named by the neutral powers. The German delegates promised to examine the proposal carefully, and it is believed that it will be possible to reach an agreement on such a basis.

Ex-Bank Officer Shoots Himself.

Springfield, Mass., March 8.—George W. Hubbard, aged 61 years, formerly teller of the Second National Bank, shot himself with a revolver this morning, at his home, 90 Byers street. His condition is critical. Hubbard lost his position through the recent merging of the Second National Bank, with the Union Trust Company, and has been despondent since.

DIED.

At his residence, 107 Prince street, this morning at 10.22 a. m., WALTER C. POSEY, youngest son of the late Thomas and Agnes Posey.

O! how we loved our Walter dear
No heart on earth can tell,
But Jesus loved him better
And took him home to dwell
Affliction sore long time he bore,
Physicians were in vain;
God thought it best that he should rest
And eased him of his pain.
How long he struggled with disease
Which baffled skill and care;
And long he lingered racked with pain
And suffering hard to bear.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to R. E. Lee Camp was held in Confederate Veterans' building Tuesday evening. As it was the annual meeting the yearly reports were read by the treasurer and secretary, and were highly satisfactory, showing that much interest had been evinced in the Auxiliary during the past year and good work been done. The old staff of officers were re-elected by a unanimous vote to serve the ensuing year. The personnel of the staff is as follows:

Mrs. J. Marriott Hill, president; Mrs. India Henderson, 1st vice president; Mrs. Blanche Berkley, 2nd vice president; Mrs. T. Wellington Rose, recording secretary; Miss Ada Garrett, correspondent secretary; Mrs. J. E. Alexander, treasurer. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Gates, the well known plumber, for services rendered the Auxiliary during the refurnishing of the building. Also a vote of thanks was given Mrs. Thomas Collingsworth for the sum of $40 which was realized from a rummage sale held in Confederate Veterans' building; the money accrued having been turned into the improvement fund has not been used for that purpose and the funds now have become exhausted. All business having been transacted, cream and cake was served the members, and a pleasant hour was spent.

Feast of Purim.

The Feast of Purim, one of the most important festivals in the Hebrew religious calendar, will begin at sunset next Saturday and end Sunday at sunset. This festival was instituted to commemorate the deliverance of the Jews of Persia from a massacre with which they were threatened at the instigation of Haman, the King's Prime Minister. Haman attempted to poison the King's mind against Mordecai, a relative of Queen Esther, and the Book of Esther relates how Haman was frustrated and he and his sons executed for their trickery. Purim corresponds to a festival mentioned in the Book of Maccabees in celebration of a victory gained by Judas Maccabeus, 161 B. C. It is an occasion of rejoicing among Hebrews and is marked by the distribution of gifts to the children. The reading of the book of Esther is one of the features of the services in the synagogue. The feast will not be specially observed by the Israelites of this city.

Death of Walter C. Posey.

Walter C. Posey, who had been confined to his home on lower Prince street for some time by sickness, died at half-past ten o'clock this morning. The deceased was a son of the late Thomas Posey, and was a waterman by occupation. Of late he had been employed on the tugboat George W. Pride, owned by Capt. A. J. Fair. On the evening of August 2, 1900, the deceased and his brother Robert resisted arrest when the late Weston H. Atkinson, at that time a policeman, attempted to take them in custody. They fought the officer until the later finally used his pistol. Robert was shot through the body and died soon after he had been carried home. Walter was struck by a bullet which was never extracted, and it was for a time supposed he had received a fatal wound.

Norfolk and Washington Co.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company held in Washington yesterday, the following were elected directors of the company to serve for the ensuing year: John Boyd, Daniel J. Callahan, John Callahan, Daniel Fraser, Edward Graves, W. B. Hibbs, Clarence F. Norment, George W. Pearson, Odell S. Smith, Hylas T. Wheeler and Levi Woodbury. At a subsequent meeting of the board of directors the following officers of the company were elected: Levi Woodbury, president; Clarence F. Norment, vice president; John Callahan, second vice president, and general manager, and Odell S. Smith, secretary and treasurer. Daniel J. Callahan was appointed assistant general manager.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John M. Johnson, colored, arrested by Officers Gill and Sherwood charged with stealing goods from John H. Fisher, was fined $5.

Hylus Osborne, arrested by Officer Roberts, was detained by direction of the Commonwealth's Attorney

James Griffin, arrested by Officers Knight and Sherwood charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $2.50.

Minnie Robertson, arrested by Officers Beach and Garvey charged with assaulting Ada Dixon, was fined $5.

Ada Dixon, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Fresh Fish.

The receipts of fresh fish are increasing. Most of the offerings, however, come from North Carolina. Some of the finest shad seen in Alexandria this year were on the fish benches this morning. They were offered at $1.25 a piece. The fish dealers, gillers and others interested in fishing are inclined to be pessimistic as to the result of the approaching season. They say trap nets in Chesapeake bay intercept most of the shad that enter the capes; hence but few are allowed to make their way to fresh water. There is likely, as usual, to be an abundance of herring The supply of perch and other pan fish is plentiful, but prices, so far, have remained firm.

Kindergarten.

The Alexandria Free Kindergarten Association met at 224 south Washington street, Tuesday afternoon. The directors are trying to devise plans to increase the funds which are very low. The annual meeting will be held next month. It is hoped that interesting speakers from Washington will be present. Miss Mary Lunt has contributed $1.

Personal.

Miss Lulu Bison left this morning for a visit to Manassas, where she will be the guest of Miss Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenfeld are in New York where they will remain for ten days, during which time they will select a spring stock.

Mr. Powell Brookes, of Alexandria, is spending several days in Winchester with friends.—[Winchester Star.

Miss Annie Tyler is visiting her sister, Mrs. H C. Leef, in Lynchburg.

Rev. Dr. W. E. Evans, of Richmond, will preach at Christ Church tonight.

Mr. John A. Ford and Miss Ortelia Florence Flick were married at the parsonage of the M. E. Church South last Tuesday by Rev. J. P. Stump.

Mrs. James Bowman, of Woodstock, is visiting Mrs. R. C. Bassford on south Pitt street.

M. P. Church Officers.

The regular annual meeting of the members of the M. P. Church was held last night when the following were elected stewards for the ensuing year: Edgar Lyles, N. S. Greenaway, H. M. Hantzmon, Chas. Hantzmon, Smith Beckett, Frank Michleback and J. T. Harring. Mr. J. T. Harring was elected delegate and Mr. H. M. Hantzmon alternate to the annual conference which meets in West Baltimore the first week in April. A resolution was adopted endorsing Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, the pastor, and instructing the delegate to ask for his return.

"The Missouri Girl."

Fred Raymond's Comedy, "The Missouri Girl" was presented at the Opera House last night before a packed house and was excellently rendered. The characters of Zeke Dobson and Daisy Grubb were the principal ones and were cleverly portrayed. The other parts were all well taken. The comedy was a laugh from start to finish and was heartily enjoyed by the crowd present. The Opera House orchestra has had several changes made in it and now furnishes much better music.

Fire at Glass Works.

A fire broke out about 12 o'clock last night at the Belle-Pre Bottle Works, in the northwestern section of the city, and an alarm was sounded. The department hastened to the scene and the flames were soon extinguished. During the progress of the fire a furnace burst and a considerable quantity of molten glass ran out.

Struck with a Stone.

Mrs. Mary Spillman, living on Wolfe street, between Fairfax and Royal, was struck on the head with a stone, thrown by a colored boy, a day or two ago while on her way home from St. Mary's Church and seriously injured. Much complaint is made of stone-throwing in that neighborhood.

To be Cremated.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Kast took place from the residence this morning. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips. The remains were subsequently forwarded to Washinton by Demaine & Son, where they will be cremated.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The stockholders of the N. Auth Provision Company met here today for the election of directors.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund today leased two of the fish benches in the market, one to G. E. Price & Co., and another to Robert Travers.

It is understood that Capt. A. J. Fair has declined to take charge of the fish wharf for the city for the season and that Mr. M. A. Brenner will act as the city's agent.

The funeral of the late H. L. Kelly took place in Charlottesville yesterday. The services were conducted by Rev Father Gaston Payne. A number of officials and employees of the Southern Railway attended the funeral.

Under instructions from the local board of U. S. inspectors of steam vessels, the B. & O. transfer tug Brewerton will have as her complement of men one engineer, two firemen (one of whom is a licensed engineer), two deck hands and two pilots.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Legislature.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, March 8.—The House today, by a vote of 57 to 28, engrossed the Caton rolling stock bill, but declined to take it up out of order for passage. The bill may pass the House, but cannot secure consideration in the Senate.

The House passed the bill relieving doctors of license taxes by a vote of 52 to 29.

The Senate is considering the Caton general insurance bill.

Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, March 8.—The Russian government has decided to continue its policy of repression throughout the country, fearing there will be a renewal of former rioting in the spring. Agrarian disorders in the southern provinces have already broken out afresh. One estate of 12,000 acres has been reduced to ashes, only fifty-five acres remaining intact. Typhus is spreading throughout the districts which have suffered from famine and is attended with heavy fatalities. It is reported that 40 per cent of the persons attacked by the disease have died.

A convention of bankers to discuss ways and means for bettering Russia's finances, will be held today. It is believed that Herr Mendelsohn, the German banker who is here, will probably agree to the abolition of the clause in the secret agreement forbidding Russia to conclude negotiations for a fresh loan before next April.

St Peterburg, March 8.—A state of panic exists among the people living in the neighborhood of Ekatrinoslov where a fresh anti-Jewish movement has been set on foot. Jews are fleeing from the region in a state of panic, fearing there will be another massacre.

Crisis in France.

Paris, March 8.—President Fallieres today called both President Dubost of the Senate and President Doumer of the Chamber of Deputies to the Elysee to discuss the crisis caused by the sudden resignation last night of the Rouvier ministry. President Dubost was received first, and following departure M. Fallieres conferred with M Doumer. The executive asked the advice of the officers of the two legislative houses in regard to forming a new cabinet and the best course to be pursued in this crisis.

The situation is very difficult as the result of the retirement of the ministry, owing both to the strained relations with Germany and the fact that so much internal discord exists on the subject of church inventories, which led to the downfall of the cabinet.

The public is seriously apprehensive as to the outcome of today's deliberation at the Algeciras convention.

The report is current about the lobbies of the Senate that if President Fallieres meets with any difficulty in forming a new Cabinet, as it is anticipated, he will order the immediate dissolution of parliament, thus forestalling the regular election which is set for the end of April.

Distress Signals.

Santa Barba, Cal., March 8.—A steamer, evidently a passenger boat, is sending distress signals about 15 miles off shore, sixty miles north of this port. The crew of a Southern Pacific freight train brought the report to the dispatcher's office at San Luis Obispo, about midnight. Persons living between Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo reported the signals by long distance telephone. It is thought here that the vessel may be the steamer Santa Rosa, Captain Alexander, which left here northbound at 6 o'clock with 100 passengers on board. Another report says that the steamer may be the Coos Bay, Captain Nicholson, southbound, which was due here at 5 a. m. The Coos Bay also has a passenger list of about 100. The steamer State of California is also somewhere in the neighborhood of Surf or Point Sale.

Operators and Miners.

New York, March 8.—Coal circles evince a feeling of quiet uneasiness today because of the attitude of several of the bituminous operators in the middle west in declaring their intention of facing a strike, rather than grant the demands of the miners. In some quarters the belief is growing that the result of the joint conference between the anthracite operators and miners will not be reached until after April 1.

Cleveland, O., March 8.—"The coal mines of the country will close April 1, and the most widespread strike in history will be on," declared T. E. Young, of this city, who is a large Ohio bituminous coal operator, before the opening of the conference of Ohio operators here today.

Italian Laborers Killed.

Greensburg, Pa., March 8.—About 7 o'clock this morning near Radebaugh, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, a milk-train collided with a work train, on which were about 75 Italian laborers employed on the pipe line. Four of the men were instantly killed and about 35 others were hurt, several of whom will die. The injured were brought to the hospital, but being foreigners, and known only by numbers, their names have not been ascertained. Their train had just backed out on the main line when the engine came upon them.

Killed by Falling Rock.

Trondjneim, Norway, March 8.—Fishermen returning here bring reports that a great fall of rock has occurred on one of the Lofonen Islands off the northwest coast of Norway. A number of huts of fishermen were buried in the fall. Twelve bodies have been recovered so far, and six persons have been rescued suffering from terrible injuries. It is feared there have been other fatalities which have not yet been discovered.

Trans-Siberian Railroad.

Birmingham, Eng., March 8.—The Post today says that the condition of the trans-Siberian railroad is most unsatisfactory and that the Russian government has arranged to charter 32 steamers for the purpose of bringing home the men and materials composing the Manchurian army. The total carrying capacity of the vessels will be 90,000 tons and it is estimated that three voyages will be necessary.

Died from His Injuries.

As a result of being thrown to the sidewalk in a scuffle with a man he was ejecting from the Central Union Mission, in Washington, A. W C Nowlin, seventy-two years old, died at the Emergency Hospital last night. Leo Fitzgerald is held by the police pending a coroner's inquest today. The deceased was twice a representative in the Virginia legislature, editor of the Richmond Whig many years ago, county judge at one time, and a delegate to a national convention He was a native of Pittsylvania county, but had lived in Washington many years, and was commonly known as Judge Nowlin. The accident occurred Monday night. Fitzgerald was ordered out of the house, and when he refused to go, Judge Nowlin attempted to eject him. The two rolled down the steps together, Nowlin's head striking the sidewalk. He was picked up unconscious, and lingered for two days. His home was at the mission He has a daughter in Colorado, who has been telegraphed for. Fitzgerald is held for an inquest by the coroner.

The expected clash between Senator Daniel and Mr. A. C. Braxton over the V. P. I. matter did not occur in Richmond yesterday. New evidence, in possession of the faculty of the school, caused a postponement.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 8, 1906.

The Right of Way.

In the early days of western railway building, days not so long gone by as to be out of memory, there were many exciting races between rival roads for the possession of important mountain passes. Such a race, says the World's Work, was that between the Santa Fe and the Rio Grande roads for the right of way through Raton pass to New Mexico and the southwest.

Engineers and construction gangs worked in mad haste to get to it ahead of their rivals. The victory fell to the chief of the Santa Fe. When the Rio Grande cohorts arrived they found him alone in one of the big gorges, shovel in hand, slicing earth from an 8,000 foot hill.

"What are you doing here?" they asked.

"Constructing a railroad," he replied. He turned another shovelful of dirt, dropped the tool and hitched up his heavy cartridge belt.

"Any one who interferes with the Santa Fe does it at his own risk," he said quietly.

First the Rio Grande men laughed, and then they raged, and then they turned and went away. Their road was cut off from the south forever.

A Bath in Bubbles.

"To take a bath at Tiflis, in Russian Caucasia, is to court a never to be forgotten experience," says one who knows. "The masseur who presides over the toilet of his patrons is a weird looking figure. His head is shaved, a rag is twisted around his waist, and his feet are dyed a beautiful red. You are seized by this individual, rubbed, pushed face downward on a marble slab, find his feet in your spine and his hands upon your shoulders. Then he grinds his feet up and down your back. They are round your neck, on your head—everywhere! Then he vaults lightly off, and in a moment, from a linen bag filled with soap, he has squeezed clouds of perfumed bubbles, and you are hidden in them from head to foot as completely as if you had fallen into a snowdrift. You are not absolutely bruised, but you are clean."—Kansas City Journal.

Wonders of the Eye.

Viewed as an optical instrument, the human eye may well be called perfect, for it is an apparatus contained in a globe less than an inch in diameter, in which is produced an image practically perfect in form and color and which can be accurately adjusted almost instantly for every distance from five inches to infinity, which is movable in every direction, has an area small enough for the detection of the most minute details and at the same time large enough for the appreciation of large objects, and which enables us to see all shades of color and to estimate distance, solidity, and, to some extent, the consistency of objects, and yet this wonderful instrument, perhaps the most varied in its capabilities of any part of the body, is persistently misused and neglected. Is it any wonder that some day nature resents this treatment and leaves the offenders in total and perpetual blindness?

The Name of China.

We speak of China and the Chinese, little thinking that the natives of the Flowery Kingdom never hear those terms until after leaving the place of their birth or coming in contact with some traveler. They have many names by which they designate themselves and the land which they inhabit, but Chinese and China are not among the number. The most ancient name of China is Tienhai, which signifies "beneath the sky." Since the present ruling house took control of the empire in 1650 the name of Tatsingkwoh has been applied to the kingdom as a whole and Chungkwoh to that portion known to American readers as the Middle Kingdom.

Still Had a Little Pride.

"What is this man charged with?" asked the police justice.

"Stealing a dog, your honor," said the officer.

"Well, sir, what have you got to say for yourself?"

"Your honor," answered the prisoner, drawing a grimy coat sleeve across his nose, "if you'll make it embezzlement I'll plead guilty. I may be a thief, but I've got feelings."—Chicago Tribune.

An Ashantee Belle.

On the Ashanti Gold Coast the costume of a reigning belle is less a matter of well fitting clothes than of well spiked hair. The hair is first divided into a half dozen braids; then these braids are stiffened with wax and tar until they are as hard as kindling wood and stick out straight from the head in a semicircle like the spokes of a wheel. Thus coiffured the belle is ready to conquer all hearts.

A Bargain Rush.

"How did the manager get all those women out of that burning theater so quickly?"

"He went on the stage and announced that a man down at the entrance was giving away samples of baking powder."

He Rested.

"Good morning, Uncle Charles. Did you sleep well? I'm afraid your bed was rather hard and uneven, but"—

"Oh, it was all right, thank you. I got up now and then during the night and rested a bit, you know."

Flattered Her.

"Yes," said the fair young girl, "everybody says I'm just the picture of mamma."

"Well," replied the gallant youth, "you're certainly a flattering picture."

Wordsworth's "Joke."

A rare old book, called "The Living Authors of England," published in 1849, commences with a study of Wordsworth, in which is recorded what is said to be the only joke the poet ever made. At a friend's house after dinner, it appears, the conversation turned upon wit and humor. Thomas Moore, who was present, told some anecdotes of Sheridan, whereupon Wordsworth observed that he did not consider himself a witty poet. "Indeed," he said, "I do not think I was ever witty but once in my life."

Being pressed to tell the company what this special drollery was, the poet said, with some hesitation: "Well, I will tell you. I was standing some time ago at the entrance of my cottage at Rydal Mount when a man accosted me with the question, 'Pray, sir, have you seen my wife pass by?' whereupon I answered, 'Why, my good friend, I didn't know till this moment that you had a wife!'"

The company stared and upon realizing that this was all there was to the poet's joke burst into a roar of laughter, which Wordsworth smilingly accepted as a genuine compliment to the brilliancy of his wit.—Harper's Weekly.

He Had References.

In her book "A Southern Girl In '61" Mrs. D. Giraud Wright tells a capital story about General John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky. He was invited by a certain lady of rank in London to luncheon. The lady had just advertised for a footman. Mistaking the hour, General Breckinridge reached the house before the appointed time and by some accident was ushered into Lady Blank's presence without being announced. The day was in June. Owing to the heat the blinds were drawn, letting in subdued light. Lady Blank, glancing at the advancing figure, to the astonishment of the visitor, greeted him thus: "Have you a reference from your last place?" The general took in the situation instantly and, with a twinkle in his eye, unobserved by the hostess, answered respectfully, "Yes, my lady." "What were your duties?" was the next query. "Well, my lady, in the last three places I held I was vice president of the United States, major general in the Confederate army and secretary of war of the Confederate States of America."

When Lincoln Had Few Friends.

In 1864 Lincoln was of all men the least commended by the Republicans in congress. On one occasion an editor visiting Washington asked Senator Thaddeus Stevens to introduce him to some members of congress who were favorable to Lincoln's re-election. Stevens led him to the desk of Mr. Arnold of Illinois. "There," said he, "is the only Lincoln member of congress that I know!" Stevens himself regarded Lincoln as incompetent and weak. Henry Wilson (afterward vice president) spoke of him as politically a failure. Greeley had a low opinion of his ability. His personal friends, such as Washburn, Raymond and Thurlow Weed, believed his re-election an impossibility. Even Lincoln himself at one time doubted it.—H. T. Peck in Bookman.

The Lord's Prayer.

The question having arisen as to whether the English version of the Lord's Prayer is a true reproduction of the original as found in Matthew, a native Greek scholar proceeds to answer it. He deals with the petitions in order, translates each word with all the shades of meaning of the original and then presents the whole in this form:

"Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name—thy dominion come—thy (fixed) purpose be done, as in heaven, so, too, on earth. Give us this day our mere (or simple) bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors theirs, and let us not fall into a tempter's snare, but deliver us from the evil one."

Very Lively.

A London paper relates that a crowd of sightseers scurrying across the road from the Strand caused a partial block in the traffic. The lagging of a particularly pompous old gentleman roused the ire of a held up cabby. "Now, then, hurry up there, can't yer?" he shouted.

"Am I not hurrying, cabman?" was the mild expostulation.

"'Urryin'?" snorted cabby, with a flick of his whip. "You're a-jumpin' about like a bit o' stickin' plaster!"

A Diplomatic Answer.

Admiral Drake when a lad at the beginning of his first engagement was observed to shake and tremble very much and, being rallied upon it, observed with a presence of mind, or, at all events, of humor, in which even Nelson was lacking, "My flesh trembles at the anticipation of the many and great dangers into which my resolute and undaunted head will lead me."

First Treaty of Portsmouth.

The first treaty of Portsmouth, N. H., was signed July 11, 1713, the contracting parties being belligerent Indians and the whites. The news of the treaty of Utrecht, which ended Queen Anne's war, reached the city Oct. 29, 1712. The Indians desired a treaty, and it was formally signed on the above date.

Learning a Lesson.

Judge—You are charged with assault and battery. What have you to say? Prisoner—Not a word, yeronner. It was sayin' too much got me into this scrape.

Quite a Feat.

Judge—Who bit your ear off? Mrs. Black (wishing to protect her husband)—I—I did it mahself.—Exchange.

An obstinate man does not hold opinions—they hold him.—Butler.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Borem—That five-year-old boy of mine gets off some good things. This morning at breakfast he said— Knox (interrupting)—He should have them copyrighted. Borem—Why? Knox—To keep you from reproducing them.

A Drawback.

"Did your husband find that golf improved his health?"

"Yes; it improved his health. But unless he learns to play better it will spoil his disposition."—Exchange.

Along the central part of the Kongo river there are a number of salt marshes. The African digs shallow holes in these whence issue streams of hot water, which, on being evaporated, leaves a residue of salt.

The Savage Ear.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is blank verse?"

"Blank verse, my son," answered the man of no literary pretensions, "is something that generally sounds as if it had been written by a man whose mind was a blank."—Washington Star.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shonick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
